Atlantic is now offering a unique service in our fight against insurance fraud. Our Lifestyle Check will provide you with the information you need to determine if surveillance is warranted or as a precursor to a surveillance assignment. It can also provide you with the information surveillance can not provide, such as marriage or divorce records, domestic, civil or criminal issues, vacation homes and personal activities. Additionally, it can identify personal hobbies, gym or club memberships, multiple social networks, fishing, hunting, professional licenses, boat, motorcycle, ATV registrations, regular activities and schedules, media and online identification. Through a unique combination of database research and canvass telephone calls, Atlantic can determine your claimants activity level. This service is offered at a reduced price and can provide much needed ammunition to your Legal Defense Team. For more information give us a call. No state is off limits. Ask for our Research Department and we will get started right away!
